Nathaniel Marshall is an associate with our Employment & Labour Group, and practices in all areas of employment and labour law.

Nathaniel is an experienced advocate and has represented employers at grievance arbitrations, during collective bargaining, as well as in various proceedings before the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, the Ontario Court of Justice, the Ontario Labour Relations Board, and the Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal. He has also appeared before a variety of other administrative tribunals. Additionally, Nathaniel regularly provides employers with advice on employment contracts, human rights issues, occupational health and safety, disability management, terminations, and workplace policies.

Nathaniel received a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science (Dean's List) and J.D. from Dalhousie University.

During his time at law school, Nathaniel was a member of the Indigenous Blacks and Mi'Kmaq initiative, and also participated in an exchange semester at Lund University in Sweden.

Prior to joining Cassels Brock, Nathaniel articulated at a leading full-service firm in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and practiced at a boutique management-side firm in Toronto.
