Rowan Groenewald is an associate in our Business Law Group. Rowan's practice focuses on corporate and commercial law, advising public and private companies on a variety of matters including mergers and acquisitions, public offerings, private placements, private equity investments, and internal reorganizations. Rowan represents clients from a variety of industries including natural resources, technology, hospitality, gaming, and cannabis.

Before joining Cassels Brock as an associate, Rowan summered and articulated with the firm. During this time, Rowan gained valuable experience assisting on a variety of domestic and cross-border transactions involving both public and private companies.

Rowan received his J.D. from the University of Windsor, where he finished ranked 11th out of 140 students in the J.D. program and was a recipient of the Law Society of Upper Canada & Osgoode Society Award of Excellence in 2016.

Prior to attending law school, Rowan received an Honours Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Studies from Queen's University where he was a member of the Varsity Development Rowing Team.
