Jeremy Barretto Authors Article on Corporate Renewable Energy Deals for JWN Energy

Publish: 08/21/2019

Jeremy Barretto's article titled "Corporate Renewable Energy Deals: Big in America, Coming to Canada," has been published by JWN Energy.

This article looks at the popularity of virtual power purchase agreements (VPPAs) in the United States, the challenges they have faced in Canada and why they may be an increasingly attractive opportunity for businesses in Canada “to hedge electricity and carbon costs, demonstrate a corporate commitment to sustainability, and advance local economic development.”

For over 82 years, JWN Energy has provided energy professionals with daily news, data and analysis specific to Canada’s evolving energy landscape.
